BUTLER, MO.

The visit of Hon. Nelson C. Crews to our little burg was an ovation for him and a source of inspiration to all who heard him. The public respond- ed very generously to the notice of the coming of this distinguished citi- zen. At the M. E. church at 8 o'clock there were assembled a compliment- ary audience representing the best people of Butler.

After singing a familiar hymn, pray- er was offered by Prof. D. W. Boat- ner followed by a well rendered, well selected solo by Mr. Edward Boatner. Mr. G. K. Ford then introduced the speaker. The effort of Mr. Crews was, to say the least, masterly, evoking ex- pressions of approval from start to finish. The unanimous verdict of all was that the lecture was a source of pleasure, of inspiration and of in- struction, exemplifying an interest in the race and an optimism enkindling hope in the heart of the most forlorn. The people who heard Mr. Crews were on the tiptoe of expectation, for Mr. Ford had said much concerning the em- inent ability of Mr. Crews to meet the most sanguine expectation of the most exacting.

The thanks of the people of this community is due Mr. Ford for secur- ing a man so thoroughly capable of meeting the most cultured audience and scoring a judgment of highest merit. The lecture was garnished at its close by a solo by Mrs. S. P. Thompson of New Orleans, daughter of Dr. D. W. Boatner, supported by Mrs. A. N. Wright, who is exceptionally proficient in eliciting from the instrument those delicate shades of interpretation which gives music its most inspiring strains. A part of the program was to en- tertain our distinguished guest with a banquet, which the ladies of the court handled with complete success to the credit of Butler. It is earnest- ly hoped that the grand master may return soon.

Mr. Jerry Thorpes, who departed this life at Chicago, was brought here for burial. Rev. H. C. Caugh offi- ciated...The obsequies of Mr. George Baker, who departed this life Dec. 21, were held from Grant's chapel, A. M. E. church. He leaves a father, moth- er, brother and host of relatives and friends to mourn his loss...Rev. J. H. Downey preached a noble sermon at Second Baptist church Wednesday night...The great breach of promise case was tried at Second Baptist church December 27.

FOREST GREEN, MO.

Mrs. Isaac Blakey, who has been on the sick list for several weeks, is re- ported quite ill at this writing...Mrs. Nettie Herriford and little Hazel Casen are also reported on the sick list...Owing to the inclement weath- er but few attended Sunday services, but amid this number the holy spirit was present...The Christmas tree which was held Monday night was quite a success.

WHY SHOULD NEGROES REJOICE?

At this time of universal joy and thankfulness there may be many Negroes who feel that we have very little to be thankful for. But we should be thankful for many things. Thankful, first of all, that we are Negroes, for in these United States and this year of grace, to be a Negro means to stand as Christ before Pontius Pilate—the sublime spectacle in human history. And by reacting in faith and charity against the senseless prejudices and social hatreds of which we are the victims our spiritual power is being quickened and intensified, and in a few years we shall be the only people in the United States living upon the heights of moral greatness. Let us be thankful that we hold no foolish prejudices against any group of our fellow men—that our sympathies embrace all mankind. Thankful that we can view with the mind's eye the history of civiliza- tion, the long human struggle towards life and light, and the upward surge of life through all ages. Thank- ful, mainly that on some dim and distant shore we shall come to know that out of the stuff of our souls have we created God, and that our pathway lies ever beyond along the star strewn destiny of eternal time. W. E. GRIFFIN.

EDITORIALS.

To all its readers, to all who will soon become its readers, even to those whose lack of race interest prevents their becoming its readers, the Sun extends its best wishes for the New Year.

School reconvenes next Monday. Parents should return their children promptly the first day and see to it that they buckle down to their best efforts for the remainder of the year.

Many of the churches will begin re- vivals during the first week of the New Year. Those members who have strayed away under the allurements of the gay holiday season will find the door open for their return.

To those of our people who contem- plate entering the New Year in those wine rooms and buffet flats we would suggest that the home fireside with mother, father or the children would be far more sensible as well as eco- nomical, morally and financially.

The midwinter heartaches caused by the dropping of political heads at the County Courts again teaches that man that is born for office is of a few days and full of trouble. The desire for holding political office is a disease just as is pneumonia and sooner or later the little "bug" will get you.

The governor of Georgia presided at a mass meeting of Atlanta Negroes last week at which funds were com- pleted for the erection of a hundred thousand dollar Y. M. C. A. building. Up to this time, however, President Wilson has not heard of the death of Booker T. Washington.

Gertrude Hoffman is soon to appear here in her inspiring dances. She is said to have a support of over fifty persons in chorus. She herself does not speak or sing, so those who take the alley route to the top seats in or- der to see her will not mind being out of hearing distance.

EDITOR CHILES SLIGHTLY IM- PROVED.

As we go to press the condition of Editor Chiles of the Topeka Plain- dealer is slightly improved. He took his bed Friday of last week and has suffered intensely since that time, and even at this writing visitors are not permitted to enter his room. Dr. O. A. Taylor, the attending physician, has succeeded in breaking up the pneumonia, since which time jaundice has set in.—Topeka Plaindealer.

RACE TOPICS.

A commission of Haitians is now in Washington for the object of discuss- ing treaty relations with our govern- ment.

Throughout all parts of the country Dr. DuBois is being severely criticised for what is called his "sugar-coated" tribute to the memory of Dr. Booker T. Washington.

Prof. Joseph D. Mahoney, principal of the Avery Trade School of Pitts- burg, Pa., died suddenly this week. He was fifty-three years old and had spent all his mature life as a teacher.

Chas. Banks, at a recent meeting of a Mississippi conference of the A. M. E. church, was elected one of the trustees of Campbell College. Bishop Connors presided at the conference and was strongly endorsed by its membership.

In a theatrical benefit given to raise Christmas funds for the Chicago poor, Bert Williams was the only colored artist to appear. In fact it seems that he was the drawing card of the occasion and made two different ap- pearances during the bill.

So great has become the tide of seceding Negro Democrats that Bishop Walters is appealing to the President to do something toward stemming the tide. President Wilson thus far has made but two Negro appointments, both to the same position, minister to Liberia.
